

Lagrein

The garnet red color holds promise of strong aromas and opulence: Growing in the warm soils of Bozen's circular valley, its fruity and zesty bouquet is reminiscent of chocolate, ripe cherry and violets. The long maturation favors the Lagrein's soft tannins and a pleasant freshness, followed by an impressive finish. A wine of choice with game, game birds and stewed dishes.

The level Gries vineyards in Bozen consist of sandy riverbed soils, mixed with quartz porphyry. The autochthonous Lagrein grapes can reach their full maturity, thanks to the heat-storing qualities of Bozen's circular valley, and therefore develop their typical velvety softness.
